Introduction: Cornerstone beliefs establish the foundation of our life structure. We either choose to build on Gods' cornerstones or create our own. The difference being that our cornerstones lead us to choices and behaviors that are destructive to us and others. As believers, Jesus Christ is our Chief Cornerstone; He establishes the orientation of our destiny for our good. The four cornerstones of the Kingdom establish our behavioral distinctives for Kingdom family living. We invite you to explore the Kingdom beyond your current perceived boundaries. Have fun, God loves you!

Discussion 1: The first cornerstone is: Because God is good, we dream big! Sons dream of destinies, orphans seek vindication and survival. Sons dream of a family conquest, victory! God wants to restore the orphan hearts by increasing their capacity to dream about being part of a victorious mission that is centered on the whole rather than the one.

Drill Down 1:

- Share dreams that you've had that were about the whole.

- Describe ways, past or present, that you have lived like an orphan seeking vindication and/or hoping to just survive.

- What would your dreams look like if you chose to trust God for victory in these areas?

Decompression Curriculum Lesson 10

Discussion 2: The 2nd cornerstone is: We take risks because nothing is impossible with God. Theology without fruit is what we see when we know about God but don't really know Him or trust Him enough to take the risk of believing and exercising His word.

Drill Down 2:

- Share the areas of your life where you're having a hard time trusting God and the "real" why.

Discussion 3: The 3rd cornerstone is: We trust God because everything we'll ever need was dealt with (redeemed) at the cross of Calvary. When you know who you are in Christ the redeemer, all you want to do is give it away.

Drill Down 3:

- Share what trusting God has looked like in others and then in yourself.

- What are the barriers to your trusting God deeper and taking greater risk in exercising your God given authority?

Discussion 4: The 4th cornerstone is: We serve well because we're significant, we serve for His pleasure and not our own.

Drill Down 4:

- Share about times when you've served well and felt significant through serving others. Share what reward you received in doing so.

Post Class Instructions: During your next available Dynamic Night, invite your brothers to join you in restorative prayer (repentance) for an area in your life presented in this lesson (living like an orphan, lack of risk taking, lack of trusting God, lack of serving others well).
